Welcome!

Thank you for your interest in volunteering with the Mississippi Valley Conservancy. There are many ways to be involved in protecting and preserving the natural and scenic areas of western Wisconsin. As a volunteer you are joining the ranks of over 500 individuals who work with us on a variety of projects year round. Opportunities include seed collection, species inventories, brush removal, trail building and sign posting on protected land. Other ways to be involved include assisting in the Conservancy office with data entry, record keeping and other organizational tasks. As we grow, the number of ways to volunteer will be increasing and we are always open to suggestions for new volunteer opportunities.

Currently the Conservancy has protected over 19,500 acres and of that over 4,000 acres are open to the public for recreational use, including bird watching, hiking, nature photography, hunting and fishing, snowshoeing and cross-country skiing. Since 1997, Mississippi Valley Conservancy has been conserving land in Buffalo, Trempealeau, Jackson, La Crosse, Monroe, Vernon, Crawford, Richland and Grant Counties by working with landowners, local and state officials and other groups and organizations committed to environmental conservation. Annually, we strive to reach a goal of protecting additional acres as well as provide educational and recreational events on Conservancy properties for the public to enjoy. Without the support of volunteers like you, we would not reach these milestones.

In this packet you will find a volunteer information sheet, listing of volunteer opportunities, a staff directory, volunteer information sheet, and a map of the counties the Conservancy protects properties in. Volunteers giving 10 hours or more earn a free one year membership to Mississippi Valley Conservancy. Please fill out the information sheet and return it as soon as possible, so we can add you to our list of volunteers and notify you of opportunities in your area. Most of our communication with volunteers is done by email, so please be sure to include your address or indicate your preferred method of communication.

Thank you again for volunteering your time and talent in support of the mission of the Mississippi Valley Conservancy. On behalf of the staff and the over 500 volunteers we want to personally welcome you to our ranks and look forward to working with you.

Sincerely,
